If the applicant cannot present one of the primary or secondary evidence documents listed above, the following will establish U.S. citizenship for collectively naturalized individuals:

Note: If a person entered the NMI as a nonimmigrant and lived in the NMI since January 1, 1974, this does not constitute continuous domicile and the individual is not a U.S. citizen

Derivative Citizenship

If the applicant cannot present one of the primary or secondary evidence documents listed above, the following may be used to make determination of derivative U.S. citizenship:

Applicant born abroad to two U.S. citizen parents: Evidence of the U.S. citizenship of the parents and the relationship of the applicant to the parents, and evidence that at least one parent resided in the U.S. or an outlying possession prior to the applicant's birth.

Applicant born abroad to a U.S. citizen parent and a U.S. non-citizen national parent: Evidence that one parent is a U.S. citizen and that the other is a U.S. non-citizen national, evidence of the relationship of the applicant to the U.S. citizen parent, and evidence that the U.S. citizen parent resided in the U.S., a U.S. possession, American Samoa or Swain’s Island for a period of at least one year prior to the applicant’s birth.

Applicant born out of wedlock abroad to a U.S. citizen mother: Evidence of the U.S. citizenship of the mother, evidence of the relationship to the applicant and, for births on or before December 24, 1952, evidence that the mother resided in the U.S. prior to the applicant’s birth or, for births after December 24, 1952, evidence that the mother had resided, prior to the child’s birth, in the U.S. or a U.S. possession for a period of one year.

Applicant born in the Canal Zone or the Republic of Panama:

- A birth certificate showing birth in the Canal Zone on or after February 26, 1904 and before October 1, 1979 and evidence that one parent was a U.S. citizen at the time of the applicant’s birth; or
- A birth certificate showing birth in the Republic of Panama on or after February 26, 1904 and before October 1, 1979 and evidence that at least one parent was a U.S. citizen and employed by the U.S. government or the Panama Railroad Company or its successor in title.

In all other situations in which an applicant claims to have a U.S. citizen parent and an alien parent, or claims to fall within one of the above categories, but is unable to present the listed documentation:

- If the applicant is in the U.S., the applicant should contact the local U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Service office for determination of U.S. citizenship;
- If the applicant is outside the U.S., the applicant should contact the State Department for a U.S. citizenship determination.

Adoption of Foreign-Born Child by U.S. Citizen

- If the birth certificate shows a foreign place of birth and the applicant cannot be determined to be a naturalized citizen under any of the above criteria, obtain other evidence of U.S. citizenship;
- Because foreign-born adopted children do not automatically acquire U.S. citizenship by virtue of adoption by U.S. citizens, the applicant should contact the local U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Service office for a determination of U.S. citizenship, if the applicant provides no evidence of U.S. citizenship.

U.S. Citizenship By Marriage

A woman acquired U.S. citizenship through marriage to a U.S. citizen before September 22, 1922. Provide evidence of U.S. citizenship of the husband, and evidence showing the marriage occurred before September 22, 1922. Note: If the husband was an alien at the time of the marriage, and became naturalized before September 22, 1922, the wife also acquired naturalized citizenship. If the marriage terminated, the wife maintained her U.S. citizenship if she was residing in the U.S. at that time and continued to reside in the U.S.

 3. The hours are supervised by an individual for whom an exemption was obtained under R4-6-212.01.

GENERAL CLINICAL SUPERVISION INFORMATION:

- Clinical supervision is a crucial piece in an associate level behavioral health professional's training and experience. For applicants seeking independent licensure, it is important to understand the requirements of both the Clinical Supervisor and the clinical supervision.
- The Clinical Supervisor must be compliant with the Board's educational requirements and maintain their license to be eligible to supervise applicants for licensure. Throughout the supervision period, applicants should watch the Board's Supervisor Registry to see if their Clinical Supervisor is compliant with the educational requirements. The applicant should also verify their supervisor's license is in good standing by using the "Verifications" link on the Board's website.
- Participation on the supervisor registry is voluntary, so not all eligible supervisors will appear on the list. It is the applicant's responsibility to ensure their Clinical Supervisor remains compliant with the Board's requirements when submitting clinical supervision hours provided by them.
- Applicants for associate substance abuse counselor licensure shall demonstrate at least 50 hours of their clinical supervision was provided by a Licensed Independent Substance Abuse Counselor licensed by the Board, or an exemption must be requested pursuant to A.A.C. R4-6-212.01.
- Applicants should work closely with their Clinical Supervisor to ensure that all client forms and clinical supervision documentation meets the Board's requirements.
- A sample clinical supervision session form can be found on the Board's website. It is not mandatory to use the form, but it captures the required information if filled out completely.
- The time period of clinical supervision must take place in the span of time the supervised work experience for licensure purposes was submitted.
