Staff Spotlight

On October 24, 2013 I walked through the doors of AzBBHE. I knew this was going to be the place that I would retire from as the whole setting of the office was unique in design and great office people. We did move to a new location and after some adjustment it became a familiar place. I have met wonderful people that I will call coworkers but more importantly friends. The agency has evolved immensely over the years, some very good, some not so good, but we overcame the obstacles and became a TEAM. Nothing beats that feeling, always knowing you can count on the people around you to see you through some hard times, but more importantly the good times. After nine years and four months, I have decided to retire to go on to more adventures to share with my family and some great friends. I will have great memories of AzBBHE, but after being the oldest of the agency, it is time to leave it up to the young ones to carry on.
